CAROLINE COUNTY and the TOWN OF BOWLING GREEN ARE FEATURED IN THE INTERSTATE 95 ANTIQUES PUBLICATION!

(Ruther Glen, VA) – Caroline County and the Town of Bowling Green have a diverse and celebrated antiquing industry as evidenced by the recently released Interstate 95 Antiques publication. Interstate 95 Antiques is a unique guide that covers over 1,200 miles of Interstate 95 stretching from Alexandria, Virginia to Miami, Florida. Approximately 35,000 copies are distributed to antique stores, shopping venues and major events four times a year.

For the Winter-Spring Edition of 2011; the ever popular Secretariat story, the growing number of antique shopping venues in Bowling Green and the Caroline County Visitor Center are the subject of the feature stories.

Billy Cecil and Ann Griffin, co-owners of Country Angel Antiques in Bowling Green, are very optimistic about the positive impact this publication will have for all the merchants in the Town; "The Interstate 95 Antiques Guide is telling the story of our Town, the antique stores, and Caroline County to potential shoppers in several states---it just doesn't get much better than that!"

Copies of Interstate 95 Antiques is a free publication and is available in several locations around the county, including these stores in Bowling Green: Campbell's Shop, Classic Cottage Art & Antiques, County Angel Antiques, and Stone Creek Antiques.

The Caroline County Visitor Center, located at 23724 Rogers Clark Boulevard in Ruther Glen is operated by the Caroline County Department of Economic Development & Tourism and is open Monday-Saturday 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. and Sunday 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.
